

Choral Scholar - Tenor

First Presbyterian Church of Dalton (P.C.U.S.A) is seeking to fill the position of Tenor Choral Scholar. Choral Scholars are typically undergraduates or high school students who demonstrate a high proficiency in choral performance, sight reading, and musicianship. Compensation is provided on a per-call basis, with an average of two calls per week (one Wednesday evening rehearsal and one Sunday morning service).

Additional calls may be added during busier seasons. Choral Scholars supplement the singing and rehearsals of the Adult Choir and occasionally perform in smaller ensemble or as soloists. Music is integral to the spiritual life at FPC Dalton, and the church has a long history of producing high-quality choral music. The repertoire varies widely in style but generally aligns with traditional church music. Experience in singing with a church choir is preferred, and the responsibility and ability to read music is required. To schedule an audition with Hye Jeong Kwon, Director of Music, please contact her at hkwon@firstpresdalton.org or 404-202-4324.
